

Team Question

---

MEV is the ability for participants in a blockchain (end users, miners, etc. ) to profit financially from the public aspect of transactions. In particular with the ability to decide or influence the ordering of transactions.

It is a known problem on L1s such as Ethereum, see overview

Is MEV possible on a L2 using zk rollups such as StarkNet ?